The map shows a central area of National Park De Groote Peel, outlined in red. This area is divided into several zones: a large blue zone in the center, a purple zone to the south, and a pinkish-purple zone to the east. The surrounding landscape is a grid of yellow and green fields with small brown buildings. A network of roads is shown in various colors (blue, red, yellow, green). In the bottom-left corner, there are three black icons of trees and a yellow line with a red dashed line, indicating a specific route or boundary.
